DISTRICT NO. 23 MINERS TO WALK OUT AT 4 TODAY

Five Thousand Men in Forty Mines to Go On Strike—No Intimation
of Intended Walkout
In Local Section

MEN HERE GLAD TO STAY ON JOBS NOW

By Associated Press.
MADISONVILLE, Mar. 31.—Five thousand miners in forty mines in District 23, United Mine Workers, were all set today to strike at four o'clock this afternoon because operators refused to sign a contract for one year. The operators asked a two-year contract. Engineers, firemen, and pumpmen are instructed to remain at their posts.

No intimation that the local miners intend to go on strike April 1 has been given. Most of the miners seem to have got enough striking last year and realize that a good job is a good job, even though it does not pay as much all the time as it did during the war times. The dull coal market and shortage of coal cars have made times harder for the operators than miners. In the general opinion, and the miners here are realizing that.

The Log Mountain Coal Corporation, the largest concern employing miners in this section, says they have the assurance of their men that they will continue at work as long as conditions are as favorable to them as they are now. Most of the other mines are confident that their men will stay on the job. A few mines have closed down recently, but this was because the operators found it unprofitable to keep them running at all at this time.

The First Easter

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door and sat upon it.

His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

HERRIN DEFENSE TELL ACTIONS OF ARMED GUARDS

Guard Read—Asserts Ten Machine Guns, 100 Men, Ready to Start Shooting

ONLY WAITING FOR SOME ONE "TO STICK HEADS OVER" HILLS

By Associated Press.
HERRIN, Mar. 31.—The defense in the Herrin mine riots trial today continued to introduce evidence regarding the action of armed guards at the mines in Southern Illinois coal company just previous to the outbreak. A letter alleged to have been written by Sherman Holmes, guard at the mine to his divorced wife was read into the record. He asserted ten machine guns were planted at various places around the mine and "we are only waiting for them to start bad playing. The guns only shoot six hundred shots each per minute and there are one hundred guards with rifles that shoot three miles. Sitting here with my rifle at twelve dollars a day looks good to me. We work in eight hour shifts waiting for some one to stick their heads over the mountains so as to give us something to practice on."

LOSSES THROUGH FORGERY SLIGHT

Smaller In Eighth Federal Reserve
District Than Any Other
In U. S.

By Associated Press.
PADUCAH, Ky., March 31.—Losses through forgery and alteration of checks in the Eighth Federal Reserve District, which includes Western Kentucky, were smaller than in any district in the United States in 1922, according to an estimate announced by the Forgery Prevention Bureau, with headquarters in New York. The loss for the St. Louis district was given as $392,500.

Criminals who specialize in forgery and check alteration gained $47,000, 000 from banks and their customers during the year 1922, according to the report. The losses in New York were highest for the country, the report stated, $27,000,000 disappearing there through forgery and altering route. Declaring that most of the losses, estimated at $1 for each $8,000 of bank clearings, are preventable, the bureau has issued the following "ten commandments" for check users:

- First.—Keep blank checks and cancelled vouchers under lock.
- Second.—Write checks with safety ink or checkwriting machine that shreds the paper and impregnates it with the amount in inerasible ink.
- Third.—In writing checks leave as little space as possible between the figures of the amount and start the written amount as close to the left-hand margin as possible, drawing heavy parallel lines through the unfilled space.
- Fourth.—Use only alteration-proof check paper.
- Fifth.—Destroy all checks marred in drawing and never permit a check to be issued with any erasures on it.
- Sixth.—Do not issue checks to untrusted strangers, and never make them out to "cash" or "bearer."
- Seventh.—Do not sign blank checks.
- Eighth.—Scrutinize all certified checks, as the stamps are not difficult to duplicate.
- Ninth.—Be careful where and how you sign your banking signature.
- Tenth.—On checks you deposit, add to your signature "for deposit only," thus making it impossible for it to be cashed by a theft without alterations.

CUNO SAYS FRANCE INVADED RUHR TO CUT UP GERMANY

German Chancellor Charges French Seek to Dismember Germany and Ruin German People
By Invasion

By William P. Simms
BERLIN, March 31.—In an exclusive interview given the writer in Wilhelmstrasse, Chancellor Cuno of Germany openly charged France aims at the dismemberment of Germany and the ruin of the German people. If France accomplishes her purpose, according to Cuno, it will mean disaster and peacelessness for Europe and the rest of the world.

The German chancellor clearly made a bid for international mediation. He authorized the following statement: "Throughout the months of the Ruhr invasion Germany and the whole world has been waiting for France to show the ultimate aims of her action."

"That she is not bent on reparations is shown by the universal opinion—shared by the allies—that the invasion diminishes the means to get reparations."

"But at last one of France's most astute politicians, M. L. Loucheur (whose work as minister for the liberated territories has engaged universal attention), in a public speech has given a hint of the French motives."

"He proposed to tear the Rhenish zone definitely from Prussia. He further proposed to 'emancipate' these German provinces and to make an artificial political body of them."

"I am grateful to Loucheur. He specifically proclaimed what Germany by bitter experience has known for centuries to be a French policy: namely dismemberment of Germany."

"There's but one answer to this French challenge: The Rhenish zone must remain an integral part of Prussia."

"French intentions of dismemberment of Germany become more and more an international danger and contravene the peaceful development of the entire world."

A THOUGHT

Take away the dross from the silver and there shall come forth a vessel for the finer.—Prov. 25:4.

The chaste mind, like a polished plane, may admit foul thoughts without receiving their tincture.—Sterne.

UNBALANCED
PROSPERITY

It is true enough that we have definitely entered the prosperity phase of the business cycle as far as the industrial sections of the country are concerned, as has been pointed out but Mr. William O. Scroggs, expert financial writer for the New York Evening Post, holds that our prosperity is unbalanced. He points out that "the prosperity is poorly distributed and that the income of the farmers of the Middle West and the Northwest is not on a par with that now received by the Eastern laborer and manufacturer," moreover,
he continues:

"The farmers with the exception of the wool and cotton growers, are losing rather than gaining purchasing power, as the prices of the things which they must buy are advancing more rapidly than the prices of what they have to sell. Either the purchasing power of this group must go up or general price levels must come down. The latter alternative would bring a check to present business expansion, and if the question of a choice were left to the business community it would probably favor the former. Yet the so-called 'statistical position' of our leading food crops offers little promise of a substantial rise in the prices of these commodities. Inflation and cheap money might do the trick, but this would also bring a rise in all other groups, and the last state would be worse than the first.
It is evident then, that the correction of the present maladjustments must be a work of time, and none of the short cuts proposed will prove a real remedy."

His Continuing Ministry
"He is risen." Mark 16:6.
Read Mark 16:1-20.
"He walks down the centuries with the tread of a conqueror."
MEDITATION: It is not the mystery of the resurrection, but the fact that is vital in human life. The ministering Christ is the world's Redeemer.
HYMN:
Christ the Lord is risen today,
Alleluia!
Sons of men and angels say; Alleluia!
Raise your joys and triumphs high,
Alleluia!
Sing ye heavens and earth reply,
Alleluia!
PRAYER: O God, who hast called us to be children of the Resurrection;
mercifully grant that whosoever in the dimness of this present life our eyes are hidden that we see thee not our hearts may burn within us and always be attentive and faithful to thy Holy Will, as it is revealed to us by thy Son, our Savior Jesus Christ.

Go to Church on Easter

Sixty-five million Americans, professing membership in the churches or Sunday schools of the nation, will go to church services tomorrow—Saster Sunday.

This leaves forty-five millions unaccounted for.

Of these forty-five millions—just a little less than half the population of the country—comparatively few are agnostics or atheists.
Most of them are people who through carelessness, or indifference, or diversion, have neglected the religious side of their nature.

Easter commemorates the resurrection of Christ from the sepulchre. It comes in the spring, when everywhere about us the spirit of resurrection is symbolized by nature. It should suggest to every one of us that this is the time for the resurrection of our spiritual natures.

The Christian church is the open door to realization of resurrection.
It stands waiting to develop us spiritually. This would be a far better world to live in if all of us were attending church regularly.

Go to church on Easter. You'll feel a lot better if you do. Your soul needs food, too, you must know. Satisfy your spiritual hunger.
Go to church on Easter.

By Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick
Pastor, First Presbyterian Church, New York

Go to church on Easter!

That is not the whole of Christianity—not by a long sea-mile!

Being a Christian extends through seven
days every week,
twelve months a year,
and it affects a man's whole life, from his secret thoughts to his business methods
and his citizenship.

Because the finest
elements in our American life came from the influence of Jesus Christ and Easter is the festival of his victory. Because civilization's deepest need is the triumph of real Christianity and Easter is Christianity's rallying-day.

Because this is one of the most spiritually restless generations
in human history, and the message of Easter—a victorious spiritual life which can conquer trouble
sin and death—is the message that modern men and women need.

Because you yourself have the old human needs for faith in God, inward power to carry on, and hope of life eternal, and Easter should have a personal message
for you.

Go to Church on Easter!

By Rt. Rev. Joseph Schrembs
Bishop of Catholic Diocese of Cleveland

"Christ is risen from the dead.
Alleluiah! Alleluiah!"

The Christian world rejoices. It steps out of the Lenten season of penance and self-denial
into new spiritual life
of supernatural grace
and joy.

Is YOUR soul attuned to the spirit of Easter? Is it dead or dormant, or is it vibrant with the glorious realization of
harmony with the risen Savior?
Examine your conscience; you will find the answer.

You cannot find happiness
here or hereafter without religion. You cannot be at heart indifferent to your Creator; you cannot deceive yourself that you can do without him.

In the midst of life we walk in death; no man knows the day or the hour, but none can gainsay
he cares.

You are entitled to the comfort,
the inspiration, the salvation of religion. Aye, you need it for the daily problems of life, and you need it more for the important hour of your death.

Accept the grace that God offers you through His Church.

EMOTIONS REVEALED IN PRIVATE LETTERS
Copyright 1925—NEA Service Inc.

LETTER FROM LESLIE HAMIL-TON TO MRS. MARY ALDEN
PRESCOTT

MY DEAR MRS. PRESCOTT:

It was awfully sweet of you to think of giving me that lovely historic and priceless desk. I teamed this morning and I immediately had it unpacked and it now holds the place of honor in the room which contains my wedding presents.

You could not have given me anything that would have made me happier. In the first place, I am mad over beautiful old furniture or antiques of any kind. That is one thing
I presume you and I have in common.
In the second place, the thought that the great-grandmother of my John probably danced with Lafayette and mayhap even flirted with him a little gives me the greatest thrill.

I spent one whole hour this morning
—which I should not have done, as John, who is already here, was coming to take me for a motor ride—
hunting for that secret drawer.
Wouldn't it be wonderful if we should find some letters in it that once belonged to Lafayette or even John's great-grandmother. You may rest assured that I shall keep on hunting and I am sure that I shall find the secret place. I feel as you do, however, that I would not have alien hands take the desk to pieces to do this. I must find it all myself and I think now that when I do, I shall tell nobody, not even you.

John came last night and, of course,
we are both very happy. He is looking forward to your coming with great pleasure. He is not looking quite as well as when I met him in Albany, three weeks ago. He has a little worried wrinkle between his eyes, and every time the doorbell rings, he seems to expect a telegram. But he insists that everything is all right; that he is only nervous and tired, you know.
He has just put over a big advertising campaign for which the firm raised his salary a thousand dollars a year. Isn't that splendid? You and I, however, know that it is only what he deserved.

John is quite as delighted with your gift as I am. He said to me, "wasn't that sporting of mother?" I believe that next to me she thinks more of that desk than anything else in the world."

And I answered, "Well, next to you,
dear boy, I come very near to thinking more of it than anything else in the world."

I am sending you a clipping which appeared in the society columns today.
You know everything about my wedding is duly chronicled by some reporter.

Lovingly and gratefully yours,
LESLIE HAMILTON.

CLIPPING FROM THE SHARON
DISPATCH

Among the gorgeous and wonderful presents being showered upon Miss Leslie Hamilton, who is to be married on the twenty-second, is a desk from the bridegroom's mother—a desk which was given to Lafayette by the first Napoleon and which passed from his hands directly to the great-grandmother of the bridegroom. Naturally, with its history and associations, Miss Hamilton regards it as the most beautiful of all her gifts. Mrs. Mary Alden Prescott will arrive here on the twenty-first to attend her son's wedding.

NOTE FROM ALICE HAMILTON
TO KARL WHITNEY

DEAR KARL:

I never was so set up in all my life
to think you have asked me to help in your dilemma. It makes me understand that at least no one can call me a child again. I am glad you did not tell mother, however, for I am sure she would have made Leslie refuse to take the pearls and I know that you would have been heartbroken, as well as Leslie, had Leslie come to hear about it.

Ask me to tea at the club the last of next week. I'm sure we can figure out some way of making my sister
the recipient of this magnificent gift
at that time.

I feel very important—just like a conspirator. Sincerely,
ALICE.

LETTER FROM MADAME LA
MONDE TO MRS. HAMILTON

MY DEAR MRS. HAMILTON:

I have just received the rose point

lace veil from a New York importing house. It is very magnificent and I think quite reasonable at $7,000. I feel very proud of this, as you told me you would be willing to go as high as ten thousand dollars. The trousseau
I have been making for your daughter is the most beautiful collection of gowns and suits and neg-ligees I have ever made. I wish some of my other patrons would give me
carte blanche in matters of this kind.

I know Miss Leslie will wear my handiwork beautifully. Will you and she call on me tomorrow to try on the wedding dress and arrange for the veil and other garnitures.

Yours respectfully,
EMELIE LA MONDE.

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

♦ ♦ ♦ Berton Braley's Daily Poem ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ DRIVING ♦ ♦ ♦
♦ ♦ ♦ By Berton Braley ♦ ♦ ♦

When another fellow's driving,
Though I constantly am striving To behave a way a passenger should do,
Still, in spite of my endeavor,
I discover I am ever Sitting tensely there beside him—
driving too!

At the highway I keep peering,
And my mind is busy steering
And I figure every chance the driver takes;
In a manner highly graphic
When he's threading through traffic
I keep putting on imaginary brakes!
In his skill and his science
I may fondly place reliance,
I may bow to his experience and
years,

Yet I sit there all aglitter
In a Packard or a Elviver
What my mind is feeding gas or shifting gears!
So wherever I am riding
I am driving, I am guiding—
An imaginary wheel is in my hand;
With the closest application
I conduct each operation—
If you ever drove a car you'll understand!

UP-HILL-

Does the road wind up-hill all the way?
Yes, to the very end.
Will the day's journey take the whole long day?
From early morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting place?
A roof for when the slow dark hours begin,
May not the darkness hide it from my face?
You cannot miss that inn.

Shall I meet other wayfarers at night?
Those who have gone before.
Then must I knock or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you standing at that door.

Shall I find comfort travel-sore and weak?
Of labor you shall find the sum.
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yea, beds for all who come.
Christina Rossetti.

Lee was leader of the reds and C. F. Bristow of the blues. Among the speakers last night were: Rev. A. B. Reeves, C. E. Cooke, H. R. Chandler, John Chesney and S. Chambers.

Miss Ida Mae Smith

Basketball Captain
The following item concerning a local girl is printed in the Kentucky Wesleyan paper:
Miss Ida Mae Smith of Middlesboro Kentucky, has been elected captain of their 1's basketball team for next year. Miss Smith played on the Union College team for several years and this year played guard on West-leyan's team. "Smithy" is a dandy good guard. She is energetic and just will not give up.

Plans are being made for next year's season and with "Smithy" to run things Wesleyan will certainly make State and Transy get to work. Hurrah!

TODAY'S RECIPES

VEAL SOUFFLE

Cook one cup of milk, one-half cup of soft bread crumbs and two table-spoons of butter until a paste is formed. Add one and one-half cups of chopped, cooked veal. Then add seasonings consisting of one teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of paprika and one teaspoon of hopped parsley. Beat three egg yolks and add this. Cool and add the whites of three eggs which have been beaten until stiff. Cut and fold the whites into the meat mixture. Turn into a buttered baking dish, set dish in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven 35 minutes.

Lamb may be used in place of veal, and tomato sauce added. Instead of tomato sauce, however, the following sauce will be found good:

- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoon flour
- 1-2 cups top milk
- 2 egg yolks
- 1-2 teaspoon salt
- 1-8 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice

Melt the butter, add flour, and cook one minute; add the milk and cook stirring constantly until the mixture boils. Add seasonings and egg yolks and place over water. Cook five minutes.

23 SERIES STUDEBAKER LIGHT SIX SEDAN $1550

Hidden qualities largely determine the value and life of a closed car.

Beauty of line and finish and refinements are surface indications and important ones. But your satisfaction with a closed car depends to a great degree upon factors that are unseen—the in-built qualities that come from correct design, use of highest grade materials and careful workmanship.

The 23 Series Studebaker Light-Six Sedan is a quality car. It is built to endure—to give lasting satisfaction.

The Sedan body is substantially made. It will last for years and retain its beauty and comfort. Evidence of its hidden goodness lies in the fact that down under the paint and varnish, the pillars, roof rails and supporting members are made from specially selected ash. Good ash is expensive but Studebaker uses it because it best combines the proper strength and weight.

Four wide-opening doors make it easy for all passengers to get in or out without inconvenience to each other. A high-grade heater affords summer warmth on cold, damp days. The wide windows give broad vision in every direction.

When you buy a Light-Six Sedan you are really accepting the judgment of 100,000 owners who have found the Light-Six chassis so satisfactory.

Studebaker quality is traditional.

Make THE Backyard Pay

String beans, such as bunch beans, snap beans, green beans and all those of which the tender pods are broken into sections and cooked as a green vegetable are the most universally grown and important from the home garden-er's standpoint. Lima beans are an important garden crop for the north-ern sections and on the Pacific Coast. Certain of the smaller varieties of Lima beans, known as Silva beans can be grown in many sections of the south. Navy beans, white kidney beans, pinto beans and a number of other constitute an important list grown for varieties and by making three of four plantings one or two weeks apart.

Planting Peas

One quart of seed peas of the variety known as Alaska or Early Alaska will supply a family of five or six persons with 6 to 10 meals. A second planting of one quart of any of the medium growing sugar peas will provide an additional two weeks supply. A third planting of Telephone or any of the tall growing varieties of sugar peas will extend the time of use another two weeks.

One quart of navy beans will plant about one twelfth of an acre and under ordinary conditions produce 16 to 20 quarts of dry beans. In the latitude of Washington D. C., the planting should not be made until about the 10th or 15th of June so that the beans will mature rather late and escape the bean weevil. In the northern section the beans will require almost the entire season for their development. Black-eye peas are subject to the work of common weevil which bores little holes in beans and must be treated either by heating or with carbon disulphide to save them. Those treated with heat are not fit for seed as their germ has been killed by the treatment.

Good Soil Needed

Beans and peas both require good soil because they cannot store up the properties that give backbone and muscle to the human race until these properties are furnished the plants. A good garden loam with a moderate amount of fertilizer will do the trick if supplemented by good seed and proper cultivation. Too much nitrogen in the fertilizer makes an excessive growth of vine and foliage. Poultry manure, in very moderate quantities is a good fertilizer for peas, especially if reinforced by a little wood ashes and lime on most soils.

Lima beans should be planted with the eye downward and covered only about equal to their own depth. Snap or string beans should be one inch deep in sandy soil and one-half inch in heavier soils. Peas should be planted three inches in well-drained, sandy loam soils, two inches in clay loam soils and just barely covered in heavy or slightly wet alluvial soils. Peas are planted on ridges in some sections and in furrows in others so no definite rule can be given.

Nine-Tenths of Wisdom Consists of Being Wise On Time

Theodore Roosevelt once said "foresight is always more valuable than hindsight."

You may never have had one of your checks "raised" or "altered." But just one occurrence of this kind is apt to prove costly.

Why take chances when without extra cost you can have "the world's safest bank checks"—Super-Safety Insured Checks. Each depositor is furnished free $1,000.00 insurance in the Hartford Accident and Indemnity Company against loss through fraudulent alteration. These checks are also protected by The William J. Burns International Detective Agency, Inc.

This is the latest development in check protection, and its adoption by this bank is another indication of the care taken by the officers in safeguarding the money of their depositors.

GIRL AND SEVEN CATS MIXED UP IN FAMOUS GHOST MYSTERY

By Miton Bronner
LONDON, March 31—Ghost experts are at loggerheads. They can't agree about the Sermishaw spook. World and uncanny happenings in Joseph Scrimshaw's farmhouse in Cambridge-shire, paralleling the famous Nove Scotia case that stirred America a year ago, still remain a mystery. Night after night, always after 12 these things happened:
Chairs toppled over. Tables moved. Crockery fell and broke. Pictures fell from their pegs. The 400-pound piano did a jazz from one side of the room to the other. Chests of drawers fell and spilled the contents. A clock that had not run for years suddenly ticked and tolled seren.
Spiritualists, experts in witchcraft and representatives of the London Psychical Research Society descended upon the farmhouse. They held seances, keep all-night vigils and question- ed Scrimshaw, his aged mother, and his 16-year old daughter, Olive.
Still the mystery of the haunted farm remains unsolved. The uncanny antics stop for a while and then be- gin again
Three different kinds of ghosts have

JOSEPH SCRIMSHAW AND HIS DAUGHTER, OLIVE, WITH ONE OF HER SEVEN CATS; ABOVE THE SCRIMSHAW "HAUNTED HOUSE"

been "seen," spiritualist investigators say:
A little old man with white hair carrying a brown jug.
A woman with bandages around her head.
A tall, dark young man, supposed to be a dead relative of Scrimshaw.
"Never had such a relative," said Scrimshaw. "I'm a churchman and I don't take stock in ghosts and seances.
The farmer takes the entire affair phlegmatically and refused to consider seriously signed Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, famous novelist and lecturer on spiritualism, suggesting that the daughter, Olive, might be the uncon- scious agent of vapory forces described as 'mischievous children of the psychic world.'

Olive, who owns seven cats, was heard by investigators to utter a sharp cry at the same moment at that heavy rumbling was heard in an ad- joining room. But she declared that she had slept soundly.
Neighbors ate keeping clear of the haunted house. Sightseers from London call the world pranks a hoax and point to the statement of a woman spiritualist who declared the ghost of her little man with the brown jug came to her kitchen window next door, said "Boo!" and promptly van- ished.

Asks This Lady, "That I'm a Be- liever in Cardui?"—Had Been So Weak She Had to Go to Bed.

Osawatomie, Kans.—Mrs. E. E. Keast, formerly of Illinois, residing here, says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while; and then some year or so ago I had a bad sick spell. . . .
"I got so weak I couldn't go. I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed. I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicines, and everything; had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up. I lay for three months, not able to do anything.
"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day there chanced to be a Ladies Birthday Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui. . . .
"I quit all other medicines and took it (Cardui) faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months.
"I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman.

EASTER APRIL 1 35 YEARS AGO

Date Always First Sunday After Paschal Full Moon—Observation of Day General

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, March 31.—For the first time since 1888, Easter Sunday is to be observed in Christian countries on April 1. A twist of the calendar left a gap of thirty-five years since that coincident occurred last, while the same thing is to happen again in eleven more years.

Fixing the date for Easter Sunday is determined by the rule that Easter shall be the first Sunday after the paschal full moon. Easter, therefore, cannot come later in the year than March 22, as it must be on the first Sunday having a full moon after March 21. Likewise, Easter Sunday cannot come later in the year than April 23. Next year's Easter will be observed April 20, while two years ago Easter came as early as March 27.

Christian nations observe the day, which is one of the oldest on the Christian calendar, as commemorative of the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Elaborate religious ceremonies mark Easter Sunday in some countries, while in others it is observed with special services in all churches.

Carols are sung and special services occupy a greater part of the day in St. Peter's at Rome. Westminster Abbey, the famous cathedral at Milan, at Cologne, and in other cathedrals of Europe are the scenes of observances lasting the greater part of the day.

Easter in the Philippine Islands is a season rather than a day. Nearly an entire week is devoted to the Easter celebration. Gifts are exchanged as at Christmas. Work is practically abandoned in many lines for the week.

China and non-Christian countries of the Far East observe Easter, but its coming is regarded as an occasion for mourning and lamentation. During the Tsing Ming festival of the Chinese, which corresponds to the Christian Easter although it usually takes place two weeks later, Chinese make one of the three annual visits to the graves of their ancestors. Rice cakes, colored with fern juice are taken to the Chinese graves and, together with imitation paper money are burned in baskets.

"EASTER" Or "The Resurrection"

Special Easter decorations will make the church beautiful Easter morning. The Sunday School hour will be marked with a well arranged Easter program of music by several departments of the Sunday School. The song service will also be a feature of the church hour.
